

Natasja Jordan

Natasja Macdonald (she/her) is a versatile dancer, emerging choreographer, and multidisciplinary artist based in Tkaronto/Toronto. Natasja grew up training in local studios in Burlington Ontario with a hobby of drawing and painting. Over the years, she fell in love with many different movement styles. Now, her favourite way to express herself is through dance fusion. After recently graduating from the Performance Dance BFA program at Toronto Metropolitan (formerly Ryerson) University, Natasja is working toward further developing her choreographic process and performing with professional contemporary companies within Toronto and beyond. This spring, she is preparing for a choreographic residency at Decidedly Jazz Danceworks in Calgary, where she will continue developing her first full-length show. As an emerging artist, she is excited to be exploring many pathways in the arts and culture industries and looks forward to any opportunity to share her skills and passion for art in her community. @gisele.ardosa / @natasja.jordan <https://gaardosa8.wixsite.com/gisele-ardosa-moveme>

I had the opportunity to participate in CGDF 2023 as a student at TMU. Im so grateful to the team for bringing me back and giving me the opportunity to dance in toronto once again. Looking forward to experiencing the magic the toronto dance community shares and the chance to get to dance under the stars.
